SAFE ROBBERS CAPTURED IN FIGHT IN DARK

Four Taken After Desperate Battle With Officers at Seamen's Institute

DETECTIVE MISTAKEN FOR ONE OF THIEVES

Manager of Place and Officer Exchange Shots Before Error Is Discovered

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—After lying in wait for two nights for four safe crackers, Detectives Graham and McPhee captured the gang at an early hour this morning in the office of the Seamen's Institute, 242 Stuart street, after a lively battle, in which a score of shots were fired and Harry Charleston, one of the thugs, was wounded in the left leg.

Several night ago the detective department was notified from private sources that four men intended to blow open the safe in the institute, believing that there was $700 or $800 deposited in it. They knew that the place, which is conducted by the Episcopal church, under the direction of the Rev. Mr. Stone, chaplain, gave lodging to numbers of sailors, who left their valuables in the office.

Detectives on Guard

Captain of Detectives Anderson detailed Graham and McPhee to watch the ground floor of the building consisting of a long passageway, with the office and lunch counter at the end of it, and further back a large reading room containing tables for cards and billiards. The safe is located in the office, and for two nights after the place had been closed at 11 o'clock the detectives stood in the darkness of the main hall against the side of the wall, waiting for the men. About 1 o'clock this morning they heard the front door forced, and the four burglars entered, broke several locks and began their operations. After giving them sufficient time, McPhee dashed for the outer door to prevent their escape, while Graham closed in upon them.

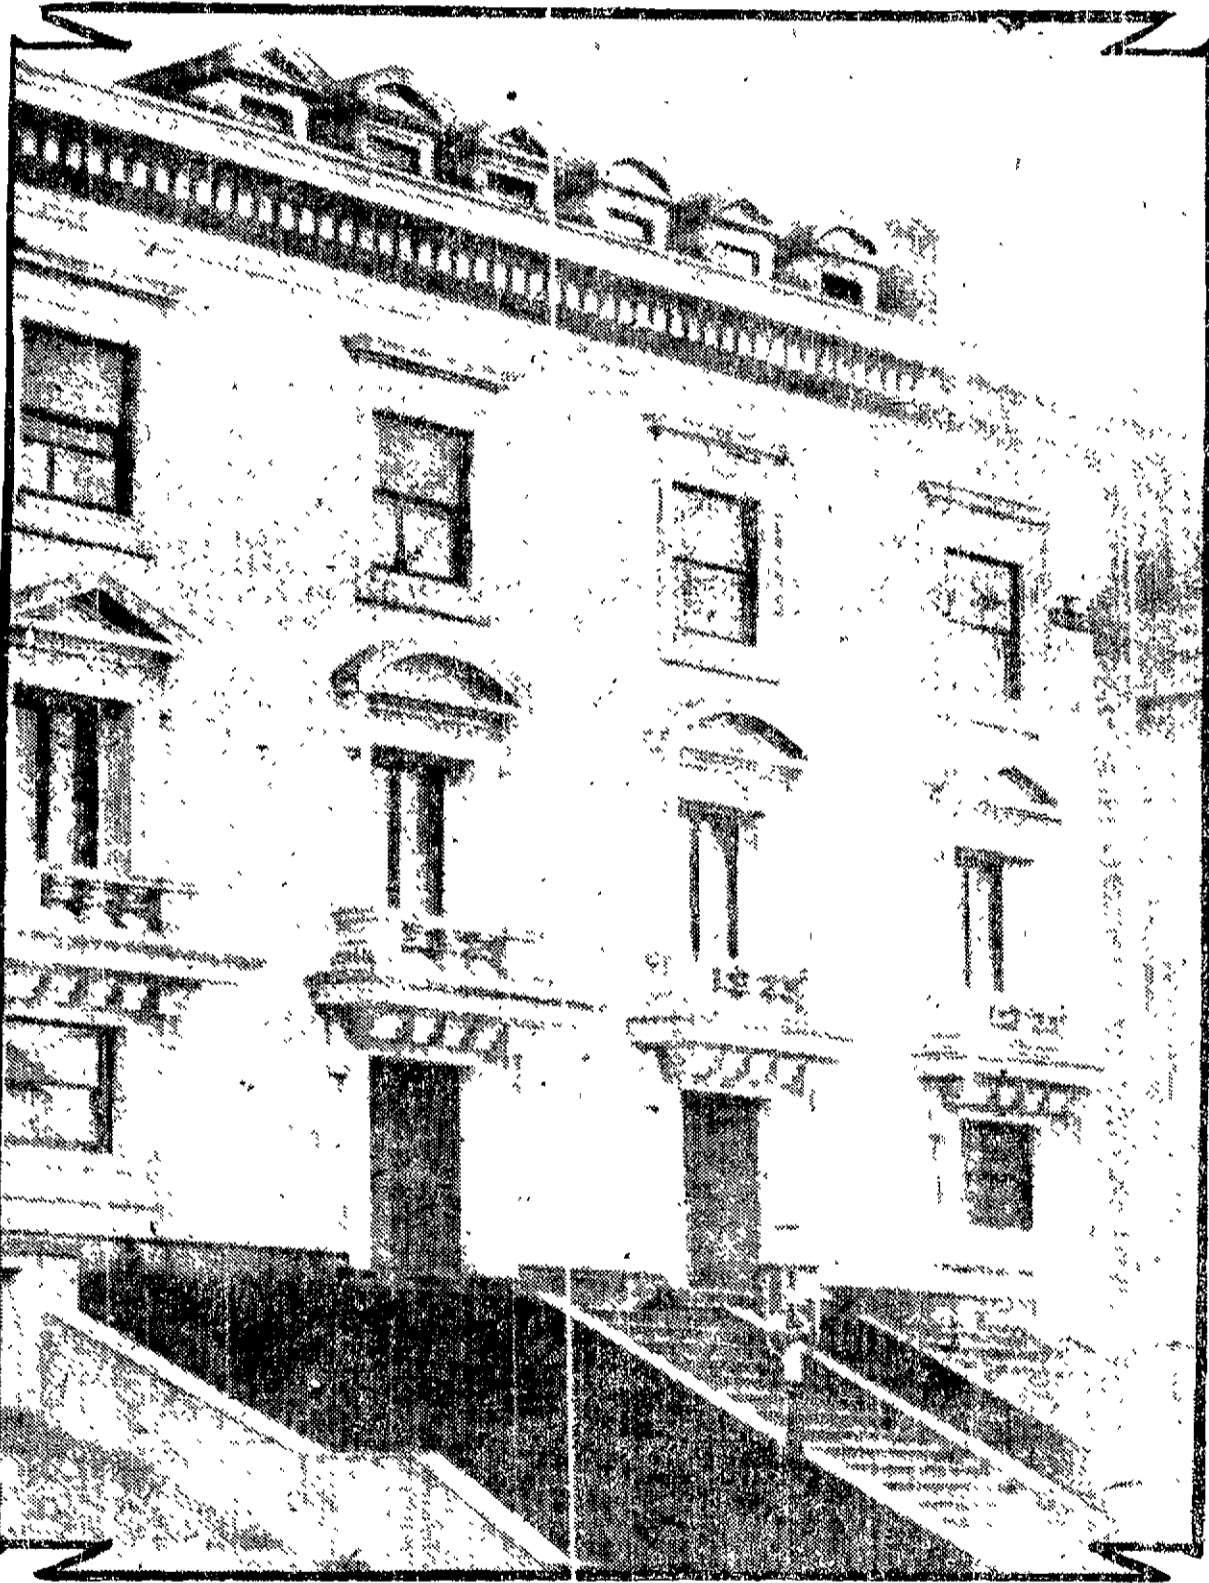

General Fight

They would probably have been captured without any trouble had not the manager, coming from his room at the rear, failed Graham to be one of the robbers. He opened fire on the officer and the latter, also in doubt as to who the burglars, thoroughly alarmed and excited, made a dash for the door. McPhee was on hand to stop them. He drew his club, struck right and left in the darkness, and was rapidly being overpowered and determined to use his own gun. He fired numbers of shots, which were returned by the thugs, and in the melee Charleston was shot.

By this time Graham and the manager had discovered the identity of each other and coming to the rescue of McPhee all of the burglars were soon handcuffed. Charleston was taken first to the Harbor hospital and thence to the Central Emergency hospital, while the other three were booked in jail at the city prison. Their names are Walter Nelson, Golden Bell and Harry Murphy. They had not succeeded in opening the safe and will probably be charged only with attempted burglary.

"That Daniel C. Murphy herein, is the personal attorney of James D. Phelan, and represents him on the Board of Supervisors of the city, and is also the attorney of Mrs. Flora Ellison, a lady friend of Phelan's to whom Rudolph Spreckels conveyed property on Pacific avenue."

Gladys Vanderbilt's Husband Gets Job

NEWPORT, R. I., May 3.—Friends of the Vanderbilt family have received word that the unexpected recall of Count Laxovai Szecshewski, who married Gladys Vanderbilt, was because of his appointment to a portfolio in the new cabinet in the Hungarian government. When the count and countess arrived in America in the middle of April they planned to remain a considerable time, perhaps all summer. On April 24 the count was temporarily recalled to Hungary and then it was understood that this was because of the uneasy situation in the Balkans and because he holds a military office. But word has now come that he is to be tendered a portfolio in the cabinet, which his close personal friend, Count Andrusky, the new premier of Hungary, is forming.

To Use Oil Surface To Save Boulevard

An attempt is being made to save the boulevard between this city and Hayward from further ruin by the use of oil. The first step in this direction will be the substitution of an oil surface for the original surface of screenings, which has now been worn off by the wheels and the action of the autos.

NIGHT REVEALS OF WIFE OF HAINS TOLD IN COURT

"Conduct Was Awful," Declares Witness Who Says She Saw Acts

CAPTAIN FROTHED AT MOUTH OVER TALE

Mother of Accused Army Officer to Testify in His Behalf

FLUSHING, N. Y., May 3.—With M. J. John P. Hains, the defendant's brother on the stand, the third wife of the late Captain Hains, testified today for the killing of Wm. E. Ambler, opened here today. According to present plans, the defense will call Mrs. Virginia Hains, mother of the defendant, as its best witness. She will tell of her husband's character as a child.

District Attorney Dewitt began his cross-examination of Mrs. Hains by asking him when his brother had stopped wearing glasses.

"I don't know that he stopped wearing them," the mother replied.

Captain's Stare

It is contended by the prosecution that Captain Hains, who stopped wearing glasses some time ago, had been using his eyesight to look at the witness.

Mrs. Hains was cross-examined by the district attorney, who asked her if she had ever seen her husband with his brother.

"I saw Mr. Ambler in Captain Hains' house," she testified.

This morning Victor H. Metcalf, late Secretary of the Navy, assumed the active management of the Union Savings Bank. Last Saturday the directors of the bank held a meeting and elected him president and manager.

William G. Henshaw, who has been president and general manager of the Union Savings Bank since the death of J. West Bank, will remain at the head of the bank, but will resign at the close of the year, and will be succeeded by Mr. Metcalf.

Long Experience

Mr. Metcalf had long experience as a bank director prior to becoming a cabinet officer, and thus will be no novice in his new position. His experience as Secretary of Commerce and Labor has given him an additional class of finance.

MAMMOTH MACHINE TURNS TURTLE AT 50 MILES AN HOUR

Capitalist, Former Senator, Saloon man and Fair Maidens Badly Injured in Accident

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Whizzing along at the rate of fifty miles an hour, loaded to the brim with passengers, some of whom were sitting on the doors of the car and on the laps of their companions, a big seven passenger touring car turned turtle on the Great Highway shortly before 4 o'clock this morning, causing the more or less serious injury of ten persons and completely wrecking the machine.

BILLY LYONS, saloonkeeper, possible fracture of the spine; possible fracture of the shoulder blade; badly wrenched muscles of the neck.

DAVE BECKER, saloonkeeper, badly lacerated wound of the scalp; possible internal injuries.

L. C. PERIVAL, a chauffeur, Auto garage, contusions and abrasions of the entire body; possible internal injuries.

CHARLES MILLER, saloon man, Hotel Nile; lacerated wound of the scalp; possible fracture of the skull.

MISS MILRED FORBES, 1681 Eddy street; abrasions and contusions of the body.

MISS PATRICE COLLINS, Hotel Nile; sprained ankle; abrasions and contusions of the body.

EX-SENATOR PLUNKETT, politician of the Twenty-eighth district; contusions and abrasions of the head; possible internal injuries.

GEORGE STERNBERG, capitalist, St. Francis Hotel; lacerated wound of the scalp.

Two women whose names were refused by the other occupants of the machine.

It was an accident to the steering gear which caused all the trouble. The car was started out some time before midnight to the number of seven, filling every seat in the machine, which was hired at the Waldorf Garage. The usual routine trip through the park with stops at the various roadside resorts was taken, and at one of these places three more passengers were picked up.

The car was, therefore, full to overflowing when it started on its way at 3 o'clock, the hour when the trip was begun.

At Great Speed

L. C. Perival, the chauffeur, was instructed to let her go, and he opened up his machine to the time of fifty miles an hour. The Great Highway was rapidly being covered and all was proceeding nicely, when it came time to turn at the St. Francis Hotel.

The chauffeur tried to slow down, and turn to turn the automobile, but something had gone wrong and the mechanism refused to respond to his touch. The front wheels spun round, and in the fraction of a second the big car turned turtle, shedding its human freight, and throwing them in every direction.

Several were caught in the automobile itself, while others were pitched among the shrubbery and sand on either side.

The Vincent of Emeryville, in another automobile came up soon afterwards and aided the injured in getting to their feet, talking stock of their injuries.

It was a heartrending sight. The women, believing themselves badly hurt, and feeling sure that some of their male companions had been killed, were shouting in terror and were with difficulty calmed.

After some quick work all were placed in automobiles and removed to the Park Hospital, where Edward Malone and Dr. Vin put the first dressing on their wounds.

Four Badly Hurt

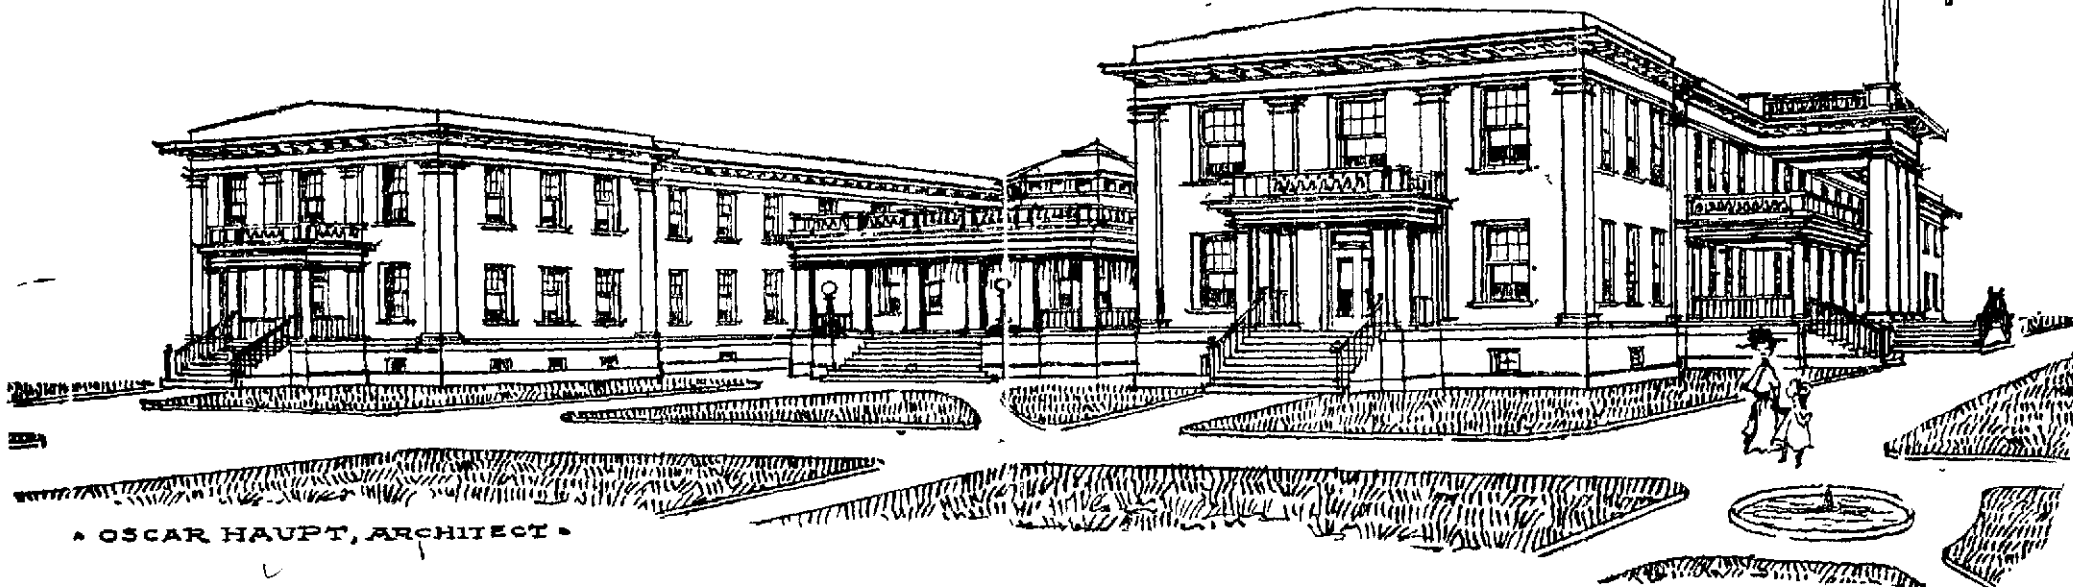

All except Sternberg and Miller refused to be taken to the Central Emergency hospital, and conveyances were summoned which removed them to their homes and to private hospitals.

It is not thought that any will succumb as the result of the accident, although at least four of the ten persons in the machine will be laid up for some time to come.

BIBLE STANDS FOR REVOLUTION

So Declares New Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church

The Rev. F. L. Goodspeed, who recently accepted a call to the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church of Oakland, delivered his first sermon as pastor yesterday. He was enthusiastically received by his new parishioners, who had been greatly pleased with him during his short stay in Oakland several months ago.

Dr. Goodspeed comes from Springfield, Mass., where he was pastor of a Congregational church for many years. He came to Oakland during the temporary absence of the Rev. Charles R. Brown, pastor of the First Congregational Church and preached in that pulpit several times, later occupying the pulpit which he now holds, and which was made vacant by the resignation of the Rev. E. B. Baker.

During his evening sermon Dr. Goodspeed said in part:

"There is a distinction between life and existence. Existence is the pursuit of our ordinary avocation. Life is the result of the efforts of Christ. Before his advent there was no such thing as life. It was mere existence.

Life Not Long Enough

"Now it is different. There is not a sufficiency in our allotted three score years and ten. What makes life worth while is the social, political, intellectual and moral progress which is the result of the efforts of Christ. Before his advent there was no such thing as life. It was mere existence.

"The recent revolutions in Turkey is the direct result of the regeneration inspired by missionaries. It is a model example of what has gone before in the countries which have accepted the Christian faith. The striking off of the chains of slavery has produced evolutions.

"There are no labor troubles in China at present. The reason for this condition is that Christianity has not been accepted. But there will be in the future. As soon as the truth of our belief is known, labor troubles will begin. But the good accomplished wipes out the evil effects and it is a wholesome.

Bible a Revolutionist

"The Bible stands for revolution. Not red-handed revolution, but white-hearted. It has inspired life and every distressing revolution has resulted in uplift and inspiration. There is the opening of human religion, the regeneration, and desire to better. Torture is inspiration. Men grow diviner. Justice appears in lieu of cruelty.

"Don't think that the church is an organization to continue the tendency to sneer at the efforts of the church because they believe other agencies have replaced the good missions of the church. It is true that lodges, clubs and charitable organizations are doing great good in relieving the sick and needy and inspiring new hope in the fallen.

"My effort in this church will consist in making all with whom I come in contact realize that the civilization of the world, which has resulted in unrest, is the work of the church and has been productive of real life towards a concrete goal."

YOUNG TURKS IN DEBT TO CHURCH

Rev. Charles Brown Says Missionaries Trained Victorious Warriors in Turkey

American missionaries, backed by American capital, trained the leaders of the Young Turk party in the present victorious fight for reform in Turkey, said Rev. Charles R. Brown last night in the course of a sermon at the First Congregational Church.

"Trained officers and diplomats have admitted the influence of Americans in Turkey has been greater than any other single factor in the realization of a demand for the overthrow of the despotism and the reform of the administration of the laws.

"Grief and belittling prevail everywhere, and such an extent have the abuses grown that a farmer may have to give up half his crop of wheat to grasping officials before he can market the remaining half."

Abdul Great Diplomat

Abdul Hamid, the despotic sultan, is one of the great diplomats of the world. Without a navy he defied the navies of the world, and with an empty treasury left off his creditors for 33 years. He was generally regarded as a champion of a class of Moslems known as Whirling Dervishes, which corresponds to our own "Holy rollers."

"His religious influence enabled him to defy the nations of the world with an impunity almost as great as that of the original Mohammedan invaders.

Taking his oath on the Koran in July, 1908, Abdul created a constitution, but immediately began intriguing to regain the absolute power which he had surrendered. The Young Turks who forced the constitution had to do the work of the sultan, this time with thoroughness. The sultan instigated the Armenian massacres, which have shocked the world, with a view to diverting attention from the real issue at Constantinople. In this he failed."

Rev. Mr. Brown announced that advice received from Boston gave assurance of the suppression of violence and the safety of the missionary corps throughout the Ottoman empire.

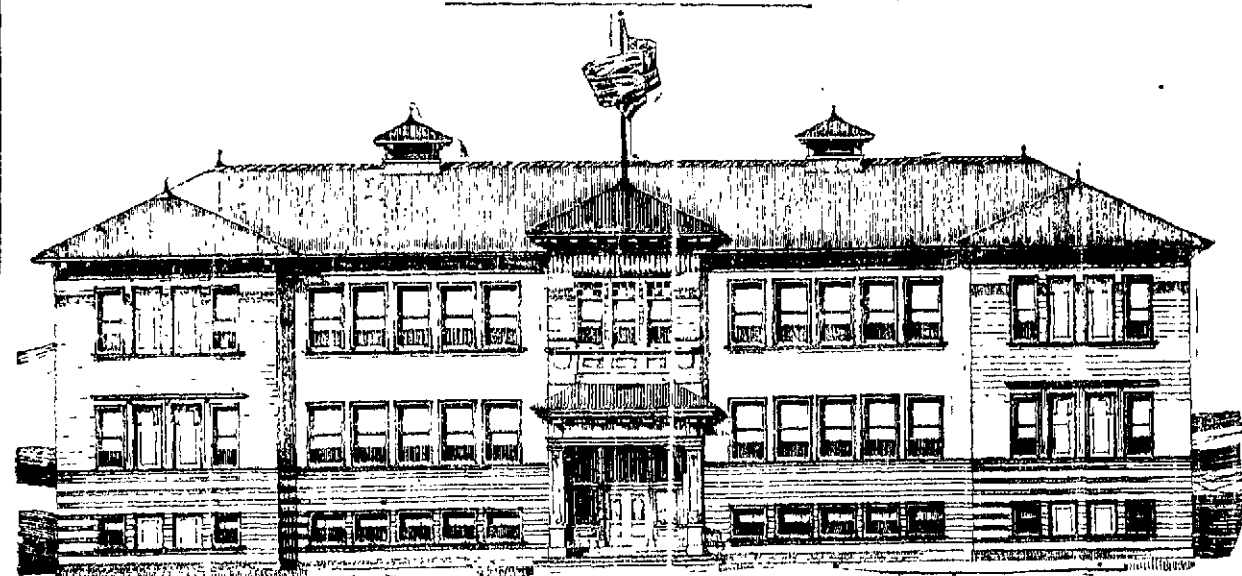

GIRL STOCKING-MAKERS TO PROTEST TO SENATE

PHILADELPHIA, May 3.—A decrease of twenty-five per cent in the wages of factory operatives in this city is being protested by the Senate strikes out the new tariff bill to increase the duty on the lower grades of hosiery.

Manufacturers declare that without the additional protection it would be impossible to compete with German goods and maintain the present scale of wages, which is nearly three times that paid German mills.

Not only in Philadelphia, but throughout the country, operatives are thoroughly aroused. When a committee of young women, five from this city and the remainder representing the trade in other cities, go to Washington Tuesday to present a petition to the Senate, they will represent 50,000 operatives and will carry more than 100 resolutions adopted by their co-workers in all parts of the country against any change in the hosiery schedule.

PASTOR A THIEF; MIND WRECKED

Brilliant Preacher Turns Kleptomaniac After Thirty Years of Righteous Life

NEW YORK, May 2.—The arrest of the Rev. George Waverly Briggs at his home in New York City, where he was about to make a collection of cheap articles revealed the sad story of a brilliant preacher's mental collapse. His wife, once a famous Kentucky belle, admitted that her husband had shown indications of kleptomania for some time. Edmund Briggs, 22, and the preacher's eldest son, said that his father's mind had begun to fail four years ago, when he held his last charge, the Methodist Episcopal Church of Richmond, Ky.

For thirty years previous to that the Rev. Mr. Briggs had been known as one of the leaders among the Southern ministers. The preacher was compelled to give up the pastorate of the Paducah church, and then took to lecturing throughout the country. But his mind grew weaker, and a year and a half ago he was forced to give this up, too. Then the family began to notice his kleptomaniac tendencies. Little things about the house were missing from time to time, and this had continued steadily.

The family declared, however, that the preacher has never taken things outside of his own home.

U. S. FIGHTS FOR LIABILITY ACT

Government Officials in Court Brief Uphold Congressional Measure

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The government today filed in the Supreme Court of the United States an opinion and brief in support of the bill for the liability of employers and employees. The bill is the result of a long and arduous struggle in Congress, and its passage is a landmark in the history of labor legislation. The bill is designed to protect the public interest by ensuring that employers and employees are held responsible for their actions. The government officials in court have argued that the bill is a necessary measure to protect the public interest and to ensure that employers and employees are held responsible for their actions.

Duty to Public

Congress, in the bill, has placed the burden of proof on the employer. The bill is designed to protect the public interest by ensuring that employers and employees are held responsible for their actions. The government officials in court have argued that the bill is a necessary measure to protect the public interest and to ensure that employers and employees are held responsible for their actions.

Settled Already, Is Claim

In the bill, it is contended that the questions raised in this case are settled by the decision of the Supreme Court in the former case. The bill is designed to protect the public interest by ensuring that employers and employees are held responsible for their actions. The government officials in court have argued that the bill is a necessary measure to protect the public interest and to ensure that employers and employees are held responsible for their actions.

In passing this statute, the bill argues that Congress was legislating solely with respect to the relation of interstate railroads and their employees. It is the object of the act to protect an employee engaged in interstate commerce from injury as the result of any negligence of the interstate carrier or of any of its instrumentalities.

The interstate business of railroads is so intertwined with their State business that no segregation can be recognized in regulating the relation between interstate carriers and their interstate servants.

Wise Statute

The bill concludes as follows: "This is a wise and progressive and humane statute. It seeks within approved and conservative lines to accomplish an object whose worth and justice all men have long admitted. That many other civilized nations have long ago enacted legislation that is to protect railroad employees does not benefit a class alone. The safety of an interstate carrier's servant means the safety of interstate commerce."
